WEBSITE	nyccarspa.com	YEARS / BACKGROUND	Father-son legacy; Charlie founded it, Kevin runs daily ops
OWNER EMAIL	carspanyc@gmail.com

HOOK: Charlie built this from the ground up — Kevin now carries the torch. Reference the legacy handoff and longevity to earn trust before any pitch.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Williamsburg Hand Wash — A Quick Note About What We're Seeing in Brooklyn

Hi Kevin (and Charlie),

I came across Williamsburg Hand Wash and I have to say — a father-and-son operation where the son steps up to carry what the father built is something you don't see every day. That kind of story, built on Brooklyn's Boerum Street over years of real work, is exactly what resonates with serious buyers.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire businesses like yours in the Brooklyn and greater New York area. These are not tire-kickers — they are capitalized, move quickly, and specifically seek owner-operated washes with a proven reputation in the community.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale now or at some point in the future. I also wanted to ask whether you'd be interested in expanding through acquisition — if there are other locations or opportunities in the market you've been watching, that's a conversation we can have too.

If you're open to a quick 15–20 minute call just to get acquainted, I'd love to connect. No pressure, no commitment — just a conversation.

Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

OWNER EMAIL	firstave.carwash@gmail.com

HOOK: East Harlem is one of NYC's fastest-rising neighborhoods — rising commercial values = rare window for operators to exit on their terms.

DRAFT EMAIL:
Subject: LMC First Ave Car Wash — The East Harlem Market Is Moving Fast

Hello,

I'm reaching out about LMC First Ave. Car Wash & Lube on East 109th Street. East Harlem is one of the most talked-about corridors in New York City commercial real estate right now — and operators who have been established in that neighborhood for years are in a position that most people don't fully appreciate yet.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in Manhattan and the surrounding boroughs. They are specifically targeting owner-operated locations with community history and real operational track records.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be interested in exploring a potential sale — whether that's something you're thinking about now or further down the road. I also wanted to ask if you'd be open to discussing acquisition opportunities if you're looking to expand your footprint in the market.

The window for independent operators in neighborhoods like yours to exit on their own terms is real — and it's narrowing as larger players move in. I'd love to give you a clearer picture of what that means for your specific situation.

A quick 15–20 minute call would be a great place to start. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

3. Big Bubble Car Wash & Repair

OWNER EMAIL	Via bigbubblebrooklyn.com/contact-3

HOOK: Dual car wash + auto repair on a high-traffic Bensonhurst corridor is rare — that kind of combined operation commands a valuation premium buyers actively seek.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Big Bubble Car Wash & Repair — Something Worth a Quick Conversation

Hi Williams,

I'm reaching out about Big Bubble Car Wash & Repair on 86th Street. What you've built there is something genuinely uncommon — combining a full car wash with auto repair under one roof is a setup that serious buyers in this market actively look for. It's not just two revenue streams; it's a business that's harder to replicate and commands a premium because of it.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively seeking to acquire car wash and automotive service businesses in Brooklyn and greater New York. These buyers have capital ready and are specifically looking for established, owner-operated operations like yours.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be interested in exploring a potential sale — whether now or in the future. I also wanted to ask whether you'd have any interest in expanding through acquisition if the right opportunity came up in your market.

If you're open to a quick 15–20 minute call just to get acquainted and understand where things stand, I'd love to connect. No commitment required — just an honest conversation.

Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

OWNER EMAIL	Via goldentouchwash.com/contact

HOOK: 15+ years in Park Slope = deep community trust + premium zip code. Buyers are racing to get into markets like this.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Golden Touch Car Wash — 15 Years in Park Slope Is Something Buyers Notice

Hi Gus,

I came across Golden Touch Car Wash & Quick Lube on 4th Avenue, and I want to be straightforward with you — 15 years of building a business in Park Slope is not a small thing. That neighborhood doesn't give its loyalty easily, and operators who've earned it in a market like yours are exactly who our buyers are looking to acquire.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively seeking established, owner-operated car washes in Brooklyn and the surrounding area. Park Slope specifically is a market they've asked about by name.

I wanted to reach out to see if you'd be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something on your radar now or something you might consider in the future. I also wanted to ask if you're interested in any acquisition opportunities yourself, if expanding your operation has ever been a thought.

A quick 15–20 minute call would go a long way. No pressure, no obligation — just a conversation between two people in the business.

Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Atlantis Wash & Lube — Bushwick Is One of the Markets We're Watching

Hi Val,

I'm reaching out about Atlantis Wash & Lube on Bushwick Avenue. I'll be direct — Bushwick is one of the most active commercial real estate markets in all of Brooklyn right now, and a car wash with your operating history in that corridor is a very specific asset that buyers are asking about.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash and lube businesses in Brooklyn and the surrounding boroughs. Your location puts you in a conversation that most operators in other parts of the city don't have access to.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something you're considering now or further down the road. I also wanted to ask if you'd have any interest in expanding through acquisition if the right opportunity presented itself.

The Bushwick market is moving fast — I'd love to give you a clearer picture of what your business looks like in this environment. A quick 15–20 minute call would be a great start.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: ABH Car Wash — I Came Across Your Patch Spotlight and Had to Reach Out

Hi Joey,

I came across the Patch piece on you revitalizing ABH Car Wash in Briarcliff Manor — and the way you described stepping into that business and making it your own while honoring what it already meant to the community said a lot about how you operate.

I work with car wash owners across the tri-state area, and I'm currently representing several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire businesses exactly like ABH — owner-operated, community-rooted, built on real relationships rather than marketing budgets.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might ever be open to a conversation about a potential sale — not necessarily now, but to understand what your options look like. I also wanted to ask if you'd have any interest in expanding through acquisition if the right Westchester-area opportunity came up.

A quick 15–20 minute call is all I'm asking for. No commitment, no pressure — just a conversation.

Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

7. Word of Mouth Auto Detail & Hand Car Wash

Chappaqua, NY

OWNER	Joe (Owner)	PHONE	(646) 730-4952
ADDRESS	25 South Bedford Rd, Westchester County	ZIP	10514
BUSINESS TYPE	Hand Wash / Detail	FRANCHISE?	N
WEBSITE	N/A	YEARS / BACKGROUND	Business name = 'Word of Mouth' — built entirely on reputation in affluent Chappaqua
OWNER EMAIL	Call Joe directly to obtain email

HOOK: The name alone is the pitch — a business called Word of Mouth, built purely on reputation, in one of NY's wealthiest zip codes. That brand equity has real dollar value.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Word of Mouth Auto Detail — Your Name Says Everything

Hi Joe,

I have to start with the name — calling a business "Word of Mouth" and actually living up to it in a town like Chappaqua is one of the hardest things a small business owner can do. The fact that you've made it work says everything about the quality of what you've built.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire detail and car wash operations in Westchester County. Chappaqua is a market they've specifically flagged — the clientele, the household incomes, the loyalty — it's a combination that's very hard to find.

I wanted to reach out to see if you'd be open to exploring a potential sale, whether that's a near-term conversation or something to think about for the future. I also wanted to ask if you'd have interest in expanding through acquisition if the right opportunity came up in your market.

A quick 15–20 minute call would go a long way. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

WEBSITE	totalcardetail.com	YEARS / BACKGROUND	Self-branded 'Brooklyn's Finest Luxury Car Cleaner'
OWNER EMAIL	totalcardetails@gmail.com

HOOK: They've claimed the 'luxury' positioning in Crown Heights — that brand identity adds premium valuation in a neighborhood buyers are targeting.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Total Car Detail — "Brooklyn's Finest" Is a Bold Claim (and It's Working)

Hello,

I came across Total Car Detail on St. Marks Avenue and I noticed how you've positioned the business — "Brooklyn's Finest Luxury Car Cleaner" isn't something you can just say, it's something you have to earn. Crown Heights is one of Brooklyn's fastest-moving markets, and a premium detail operation with that kind of brand positioning is a very specific asset.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash and detail businesses in Brooklyn. They are specifically targeting operations that have built a premium brand — because that's the kind of business that holds its value and attracts serious interest.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something you're thinking about now or down the road. I also wanted to ask if you'd be interested in discussing any acquisition opportunities if you're looking to expand.

A quick 15–20 minute call would be a great place to start. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

BUSINESS TYPE	Full-Service / Detail	FRANCHISE?	N
WEBSITE	johnniescarwashonoak.com	YEARS / BACKGROUND	Owner's name IS the business name — personal brand synonymous with the operation
OWNER EMAIL	Via johnniescarwashonoak.com

HOOK: When your name is the business, the business IS you — that's both the biggest strength and the reason to start thinking about what comes next.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Johnnie's Car Wash on Oak — Your Name on the Sign Means Something

Hi Johnnie,

When someone puts their own name on the door, it means they stand behind everything that happens inside. That's exactly what Johnnie's Car Wash on Oak is — and in Copiague, that reputation is real.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses on Long Island. Suffolk County is a market they're watching closely, and an established, owner-operated wash with a name that the community already trusts is at the top of their list.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might ever be open to a conversation about a potential sale — whether that's something on your radar for now or the future. I also wanted to ask if you'd have any interest in expanding through acquisition if the right Long Island opportunity came up.

A quick 15–20 minute call is all I'm asking for. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

10. Aqua Car Wash & Detailing

Huntington, NY

ADDRESS	616 New York Ave, Long Island / Huntington	ZIP	11743
BUSINESS TYPE	Full-Service / Detail	FRANCHISE?	N
WEBSITE	aquacarwashanddetail.com	YEARS / BACKGROUND	Owner-operated on one of LI's growing commercial corridors
OWNER EMAIL	Via aquacarwashanddetail.com/contact-us

HOOK: Huntington's New York Ave is one of Long Island's fastest-growing commercial strips — operators with roots there are holding an appreciating asset.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Aqua Car Wash — Huntington Is a Market Our Buyers Are Actively Looking At

Hi Angelo,

I'm reaching out about Aqua Car Wash & Detailing on New York Avenue. Huntington is a market our buyers have specifically flagged — the corridor you're on has seen significant commercial activity recently, and an established, owner-operated wash in that location carries real weight with serious acquirers.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash and detail businesses on Long Island. They're capitalized, move efficiently, and are specifically seeking operations with a proven owner on the ground.

I wanted to see if you might be open to a conversation about a potential sale — whether that's something you're considering now or at some point in the future. I also wanted to ask if you'd be interested in any acquisition opportunities if you've thought about expanding your presence on the Island.

A quick 15–20 minute call would be a great first step. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

11. Washville Car WashAmityville, NY

OWNER	Craig De Luca (Owner)	PHONE	(631) 608-0540
ADDRESS	25 Merrick Rd, Long Island / Nassau County	ZIP	11701
BUSINESS TYPE	Express / Tunnel — 5 NY + 1 MA locations	FRANCHISE?	N
WEBSITE	washvillecarwash.com	YEARS / BACKGROUND	Multi-location operator who expanded across state lines to Massachusetts
OWNER EMAIL	craig.deluca@washvillecarwash.com

HOOK: Craig already crossed state lines — 5 NY + 1 MA is a platform. Buyers pay premium for platforms, not single sites.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Washville Car Wash — What You've Built Is a Platform, Not Just a Business

Hi Craig,

I've been following Washville Car Wash's growth across Long Island — five locations in New York and then taking it into Massachusetts is not something most operators ever do. That kind of multi-state expansion puts Washville in a very different conversation than a single-site operation.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash platforms in the Northeast. A branded, multi-location operation like Washville — with the infrastructure and track record you've built — is exactly what strategic acquirers and private equity groups are targeting right now.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring what a sale or partnership could look like — whether that's something you'd consider now or as part of a longer-term plan. I also wanted to ask if you're looking to expand further through additional acquisitions, because that's a conversation we can absolutely support.

A quick 20-minute call to compare notes would be worthwhile for both of us. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

WEBSITE	prodetailingclub.com	YEARS / BACKGROUND	Recently rebranded; owner-operated
OWNER EMAIL	Via prodetailingclub.com/contact-us

HOOK: Operators mid-rebrand are often thinking about next steps — this is the right moment for a conversation about what the business looks like going forward.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Pro Detailing HG — A Quick Note About What We're Seeing in Brooklyn

Hi Henri,

I came across Pro Detailing HG Auto Corp on West 7th and I noticed you've recently gone through a rebrand — that kind of reinvestment in the business tells me you're serious about where it's going. Brooklyn's detail market is more competitive than it's ever been, but that also means buyers are paying more attention than ever before.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire detail and car wash operations in Brooklyn. They are specifically looking for owner-operated businesses with a hands-on operator behind them — which is exactly what you've built.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale at some point — whether near-term or further out. I also wanted to ask if you'd be interested in any acquisition or expansion opportunities in the market.

A quick 15–20 minute call is all I'm asking for. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

HOOK: Don't pitch Dino — connect with him as an industry peer. He hears about every deal in NJ before anyone else does.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Asbury Circle Car Wash — A Conversation I Think You'd Find Worth Having

Hi Dino,

With everything you've seen in this industry over 30 years — City Line Car Wash in Jersey City, Shrewsbury Car Wash, and now Asbury Circle — you probably have a better read on where the NJ acquisition market is heading than most people in any room.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in New Jersey. Given your role at CWONJ, I imagine you're already aware of the level of buyer activity in the market right now — but I wanted to connect directly to see if Asbury Circle itself might be part of that conversation at some point.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something on your radar now or down the road. And I also wanted to ask, given your network, whether there are operators in your circle who might be at a similar crossroads. If there's an introduction to be made, we'd welcome it.

A quick 20-minute call would be great. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

WEBSITE	premiercarwashnj.com	YEARS / BACKGROUND	CWONJ Vice President; Metuchen operator
OWNER EMAIL	dan@premiercarwashnj.com

HOOK: Approach Dan as a peer, not a prospect. He hears about every NJ deal first — a warm conversation about the market opens more doors than a pitch.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Premier Car Wash — Comparing Notes on the NJ Market

Hi Dan,

Given your role as VP of CWONJ, you're probably getting a front-row seat to everything happening in the New Jersey car wash acquisition market right now — and I'd love to compare notes.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in New Jersey, Middlesex County included. Metuchen is a market that keeps coming up in those conversations, and Premier Car Wash specifically is a business that fits the profile of what serious buyers are seeking.

I wanted to reach out to see if you'd be open to a conversation about a potential sale — whether that's something you're exploring now or something to think about for the future. I also wanted to ask if you'd have interest in any acquisition opportunities if you've thought about expanding Premier beyond its current location.

A quick 20-minute call would be a great place to start — no commitment, just a peer-level conversation. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Summit Car Wash — Springfield Ave Is a Different Kind of Conversation

Hi Mike,

I'm reaching out about Summit Car Wash & Detail Center on Springfield Avenue. Summit is not a market that comes up in every car wash conversation — but the buyers I work with know exactly what it means to operate there. The clientele, the location, the household incomes in that zip code — it all factors into a valuation that operators elsewhere can't touch.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in Union County and across New Jersey. Summit specifically is a market they've asked about, and a business with your operating history and CWONJ track record checks every box they have.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether now or at some point in the future. I also wanted to ask if you'd have any interest in expansion through acquisition if the right opportunity came up in your market.

A quick 20-minute call is all I'd ask for. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

HOOK: Three self-service locations near Long Beach Island. Seasonal data alone tells a compelling acquisition story — buyers love Shore-market volume spikes.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Manahawkin Magic Wash — Three Locations Near LBI Is a Specific Asset

Hi Doug,

I'm reaching out about Manahawkin Magic Wash. Three self-service locations in Ocean County, with proximity to Long Beach Island — that's not just a car wash business, that's a Shore-market asset with seasonal volume data that tells a very specific story to the right buyer.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash operations in New Jersey. Multi-location operators in Shore-adjacent markets are at the top of that list — the seasonal traffic patterns near LBI make the numbers look very different than an inland location, and sophisticated buyers know exactly how to value that.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something you're considering now or thinking about for down the road. I also wanted to ask if you'd have any interest in expanding your platform through additional acquisitions in the area.

A quick 20-minute call would be great. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

Hi Wil and Cynthia,

I came across ProShine Hand Car Wash & Detailing Center and I want to say — building a business together as a couple, and making it work for 7+ years on Route 35 in Eatontown, is genuinely rare. The kind of commitment that takes doesn't go unnoticed by the buyers I work with.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire hand car wash and detailing businesses in Monmouth County and across New Jersey. A family-operated business with a loyal customer base and a clean, hands-on reputation is exactly the kind of opportunity they're seeking.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something you're thinking about now or as part of a longer-term plan. I also wanted to ask if you'd have any interest in discussing acquisition opportunities if you've thought about adding a location or expanding your reach in the market.

Whatever comes next, you both deserve a plan that honors everything you've put into ProShine. A quick 20-minute call would be a great first step.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Jersey Shine & Lube — 20 Years on Route 70 Is Worth a Conversation

Hi Tom and Joe,

Twenty years running a family business on Route 70 in Medford is something most people only dream about — and the fact that you've built and maintained Jersey Shine & Lube together as a family makes it even more significant.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash and lube businesses in Burlington County and across New Jersey. A 20-year operating history with family roots and a loyal customer base on a high-traffic corridor like Route 70 is at the very top of what serious buyers are looking for.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something either of you is thinking about now or looking ahead. I also wanted to ask if you'd have any interest in expanding through acquisition if the right South Jersey opportunity came up.

A quick 15–20 minute call is all I'd need. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Kleen Kar Car Wash — Four Locations Is a Platform, Not Just a Business

Hi John,

Four car wash locations across South Jersey under a consistent brand — that's not a car wash business, that's a platform. And the buyers I work with know the difference, and they pay accordingly.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire multi-location car wash operations in New Jersey. A 4-unit operator like Kleen Kar, with the infrastructure and customer base you've built, is exactly what strategic acquirers and growth-focused groups are looking for right now.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's the full platform or a partial stake — or to discuss what the current market is saying about operations like yours. I also wanted to ask whether you'd have any interest in expanding further through acquisition if the right South Jersey locations became available.

A quick 20-minute call would be well worth both our time. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and looking forward to connecting.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Mr. Bees Auto Wash — Your Name Is the Brand, and That's Worth Something

Hi Ben,

When a business carries the owner's name — or nickname — it means one thing: the loyalty customers have is loyalty to you. Mr. Bees has been that in Bergen County for over 10 years, and in one of the most competitive auto care markets in New Jersey, that kind of personal brand equity is real money to the right buyer.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash and mobile detailing operations in Bergen County. A business with your community presence and customer loyalty is exactly what they're asking about.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to a conversation about a potential sale — whether that's something you're considering now or thinking about for the future. Hi Moe,

I'm reaching out about Riverdale Car Wash & Detail Center on Route 23. Ten-plus years of operating history on one of North Jersey's busiest state roads isn't something you can manufacture — and it's exactly the kind of track record that makes serious buyers stop and pay attention.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something you're considering now or something you'd think about down the road. I also wanted to ask if you'd be interested in any acquisition opportunities if you've thought about expanding in the area.

Hi Sammy,

Thirty years at the same location in West Haven — that is not a small thing. That's a business that has survived recessions, a pandemic, and now a wave of private equity-backed chains moving aggressively into Connecticut. You're still standing, and buyers notice that.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in Connecticut. West Haven is a market they've looked at specifically, and Budget Car Wash — with three decades of operating history and community loyalty — is exactly the kind of business that generates real competitive interest.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something you're thinking about now, or whether it's part of a longer-term plan. I also wanted to ask if you'd have any interest in discussing acquisition opportunities if expanding your footprint is something you've considered.

The CT independent market is changing fast. I'd love to give you a picture of what your business looks like in this environment before you decide anything. A quick 20-minute call is all I need.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Buggy Car Wash — The Dog Wash Angle Is Something Buyers Don't Forget

Hi Mark,

I've been in the car wash acquisition space long enough to know that when someone says "car and dog wash" — people remember it. What you've built at Buggy Car Wash in North Haven over 25 years is genuinely unique in the Northeast, and that niche doesn't just make you memorable — it adds a revenue layer that most car wash valuations don't account for.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in Connecticut. A 25-year operation with a differentiated service model like yours is a conversation that gets attention fast.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something you're thinking about now or at some point down the road. I also wanted to ask if you'd be interested in discussing expansion opportunities if adding a location or scaling the Buggy concept is something you've ever considered.

Hi Tunji,

I came across CT Auto Spa and your positioning as the Farmington Valley's newest car wash and detailing center — launching into this market and establishing yourself takes real conviction, and it sounds like you're doing exactly that.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in Hartford County and greater Connecticut. Farmington Valley is a market they've specifically identified — the demographics, the household incomes, the growth trajectory — it's a combination that generates real buyer interest.

I wanted to reach out not to disrupt what you're building, but to make sure you know what your options look like while you have the most leverage. The best time to understand the value of what you've built is when you're growing — not when you're stuck. DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: VR Brothers Car Wash — Opening in 2020 and Getting to Two Locations Is Not Small

Hi Juan Pablo,

I want to start there — launching a car wash business in 2020 and then growing to a second location in Fairfield County is something that very few operators have managed. The buyers I work with understand what that kind of resilience means, and they assign real value to it.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in Connecticut, and Fairfield County specifically. Stamford is one of the premium markets in the entire state, and a two-location operator with your track record there is the kind of business that generates immediate interest.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something you'd consider now or at some point in the future. I also wanted to ask if you'd be interested in expanding VR Brothers further through additional acquisitions in the county if the right opportunities came up.

Subject: Connecticut Car Wash / Cloud10 — Comparing Notes on the CT Market

Hi Brendan,

Given that you're running Connecticut Car Wash and serving as CEO of Cloud10, you're looking at this market from both an operational and a strategic lens — which puts you in a pretty specific position relative to most operators I talk to.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in Connecticut. I wanted to reach out directly because I suspect you have a view of the market that would be valuable to compare notes on — and because I wanted to be transparent: Connecticut Car Wash is also a business that fits what our buyers are looking for.

Whether this is a conversation about a potential sale now, a future transaction, or simply exchanging perspectives on where the Connecticut market is heading — I'd welcome the call. I also wanted to ask if you'd be interested in discussing acquisition opportunities to expand your footprint further.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Congrats on the Fred's Car Wash Exit — and a Question

Hi Fred,

I wanted to reach out to congratulate you on the sale of Fred's Car Wash to Summit Wash Holdings — that's a chapter that a lot of people in this industry spend decades working toward, and you got there.

I work with independent car wash owners across the Northeast on acquisition and exit strategies, and I wanted to connect with you for two reasons:

First — I'd genuinely love to hear how the process went. Every exit is different, and what you went through with a multi-location sale of this magnitude is the kind of experience that's valuable to understand from your perspective.

Second — I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in Connecticut. Given your 40-plus years in this market and the relationships you've built across the state, I wanted to ask if there are any operators in your network who might be at a similar crossroads — thinking about selling or exploring what their options look like. If there's an introduction to be made, we would truly value it.

A quick 20-minute call would be a pleasure. Please let me know a good time and the best number to reach you.

Thank you, and congratulations again.

DRAFT EMAIL:

Subject: Happy Hand Car Wash — A Quick Note From Someone Working in the Waterbury Market

Hello,

I'm reaching out about Happy Hand Car Wash on Stillson Road. Waterbury has been an interesting market to watch recently — with Fred O'Neill's sale of Fred's Car Wash to Summit Wash Holdings earlier this year, it's clear that serious buyers are paying attention to this area and what independent operators have built here.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in New Haven County and greater Connecticut. Established, independently owned hand car washes with community loyalty are at the top of that list.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's something you're thinking about now or down the road. I also wanted to ask if you'd be interested in any acquisition opportunities if expanding is something you've considered.

In a Connecticut market that's increasingly dominated by private equity-backed chains and automated tunnels, a brand called Personal Touch that actually delivers on the name is a differentiated asset — and buyers know it.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire car wash businesses in New Haven County and across Connecticut. A multi-location operation with an established brand identity and a loyal customer base in this environment is exactly what generates serious acquisition interest.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to exploring a potential sale — whether that's a near-term conversation or something to think about as the market evolves. I also wanted to ask whether you'd have any interest in expanding the Personal Touch footprint through additional acquisitions if the right locations in your market became available.

I'm currently working with several qualified buyers who are actively looking to acquire detail and car wash operations in Fairfield County. Greenwich specifically is at the top of their list — the clientele, the location, the ticket prices — it's a profile that generates immediate, serious interest.

I wanted to reach out to see if you might be open to a conversation about what Classic Shine looks like going forward — whether that's exploring a potential sale, a partnership, or simply understanding what the business is worth in today's market. Your setup — full-service, sole proprietorship, established location — is exactly the profile that generates real competitive interest.
